

November 10, 2025: On What a Sad Period of American History

Seriously, just stop and think about all of this for a second.

Things have become so bad that a solo-practitioner in San Antonio, Texas, that served as the 'Precinct Chair' of the Republican Party for less than one year of service is considering filing suit against the 'billionaire' President of the United States and the Department of Justice because the administration that they are running is so far outside of the box of legality that it is destroying his career and daily life.

What a horribly sad period of 'American prosperity' - and to remember that this very same 'billionaire' lied his way into office on the promises of helping to promote the interests of people just like me.

Donald Trump is a disaster for America and for the world.

May his example for remembered forever as the quintessential example of what not to become, strive for, or admire.

His over-bloated persona of threats, illegalities, and self-indulgence are exactly what everyone in this world should hold up as the example of an 'evil' that should be avoided at all costs.

Read my words and weep, old man. You are exposed as a fraud and you do not deserve any of the 'success' that you claim to have achieved.

To any team, business, or person that is 'partnering' with Donald Trump's current administration: you are participating in the evil destruction of America and shall be remembered accordingly. May your businesses forever hold the designation of being an "organization that helped destroy what little hope America had left - just to earn an extra buck."

Donald Trump's parade of cars streaming past the front of our home approves of this message.

Shame on you.
